5 Guiding Principles

02/01/2019 — Our speaker on Friday was Jonathan Shenk, owner of Greenleaf Painting. He spoke about the five key principles that have guided him in his business and personal life.

Among them were to take the long view on life and business. Another was to feel and express gratitude on a regular basis, irrespective of what else is going on in your life. Great lessons and advice so thanks to Jonathan for sharing these valuable insights.

Eugene Marsh

02/08/2019 - We welcomed Eugene Marsh as our speaker for our Friday lunch. Mr. Marsh is a motivational speaker and advocate to improve the lives of veterans when they return home, including access to appropriate health care and the issue of homelessness among veterans.

Eugene related his inspiring story of growing up poor in the segregated South, his service in Vietnam, returning to a country in turmoil and eventually finding success with his own construction company. His second avocation/career is advocating for veterans and relating his story to inspire others.

Computer Forensics

02/15/19 - Our speaker at lunch on Friday was Lacey Walker with CFP LLC. His company provides computer forensic services for all sizes and types of organizations.

Lacey provide us with some very interesting information about various computer investigations he has conducted. But also scared the group by letting us know that many of the common devices in our homes that respond to voice commands are also always listening and saving what they hear. So be sure to watch what you say around your electronic devices, or better yet unplug them.

Eden Autism Donation

02/15/19—Our Christmas ornament fundraising project with Eden Autism resulting in our club generating over $2,000 to help Eden support their invaluable programs.

Our club made the presentation at lunch, lead by the project leader Scott Needham and supported strongly by our club. Our former member Heinz Gartlgruber made the ornaments, Eden put the packages together and our club sold the ornaments.

Representatives and clients from Eden were on hand for the ceremony so it was a great joint effort to benefit Eden.

Thanks to everyone who supported us in this effort.

News Around Town

February 2019— Thank you to the Sheridan family for hosting a Rotary Superbowl party. Dan and Michelle Sheridan graciously hosted our club to watch the Super Bowl. Although the game did not live up to all the build-up, the company was second to none. A great time for members and spouses to enjoy great food and dessert and lots of fun.

February 2019—Scott Needham was the speaker at a Trenton Rotary club lunch meeting in February. He will talk about the same topic at a lunch meeting in March. At the meeting he explained the newest technology in Geothermal Systems.

February 28, 2019—Sal Levatino was the speaker at the Princeton Chamber of Commerce Independent Business Alliance breakfast. He gave an insightful talk about how to know and capture which prospective clients will be a good fit for you and your business.
